Mountain Dew Master In China

Mountain Dew becomes the focus of 'Master' a 2006 television advertisement featuring a trainee hand slapper in the mountains of China. A young man (Breon Ansley) enters a mountainside community of novices in the martial art of handslapping. His long-term goal, through much training and hardship, is to equal the master (Dana Lee). Finally he believes he is good enough to take on the master, with a Mountain Dew in hand. But is he really that good? The Mountain Dew Master video clip is available in 30 seconds, 60 seconds, and 2 minutes 30 seconds. Embedded here is the extended version.
